PHILIPPINES' COMMERCE

What is Shown by the Statement of the Division of Insular Affairs Just Made Public.

TRADE CONSTANTLY ON THE INCREASE.

While Imports Show Healthy Progress, Exports Show a Much Larger Enhanced Volume, For the Most Part Represented by the Hemp Output.

Washington, June 7.- Importations of merchandise into the Philippine islands for the first three quarters of 1900 showed an increase of $658,321, or 72 per cent. over the amount for the same period of 1899, according to a statement made public by the division of insular affairs of the war department. During the period stated Baer will make his annual report 4.9 per cent, increase. Both the Chronof 1900, merchandise to the value of $1,571,972 came into the Philippines from the United States, while in 1899 the figures were $913,651.

Imports Figures.

The toal value of merchandise imported from all countries from Jan- observance. uary to October of 1900 was $17,187,-991, as against $14,163,242 during the same period of the preceding year. on the four following days with man; This shows an increase of $3,024,749, of the most eminent men in Christian or 21 per cent. European and Asiatic countries combined sent over $15,000,-000 worth of the total importation in 1900. An interesting fact is noted in the shape of an import trade worth $3,003 from Africa in 1900, as against an entire absence of this trade the preceding year. The above figures relative to the imports from the United States represent direct shipments only, and do not include merchandise from the United States inshipped to Manila.

Comparative Export Figures.

The comparative figures as to exports to the rest of the world show an increase double that noted in the import trade. The merchandise exported from the Philippines to other countries in 1900 was valued at $17,-883,200; for 1899 it was valued at $11,-993,011, thus showing an increase of $5,890,189, or 49 per cent. The exports to the United States, however, showed a decrease of $726,949 in 1900, as compared with the same period of 1899, while on the other hand the exportations to European, Asiatic, African and South African countries showed material increases in each case, the exports to Europe increasing from $4,437,887 in 1899 to $9,550,103 in 1900. Merchandise to the value of $1,467 was exported to South American in 1900, as against no trade of this sort in 1899. The exportation of hemp from the Philippines during the first three quarters of 1900 were valued at $10,-243,742, against $6,403,980 during the same period of 1899.

Will Be an Enormous Crop. But potwithstanding this more moderate increase in acreage (than in 1900) er ough cotton has been planted to make an enormous crop if all the conditions could be as favorable as in the spring, summer and autumn of 1897 and 1898. Probably 13 per cent. more land has been put under cotton in the south this year than ir either of the years mentioned, and yet the average raised, as already said, in each of those years was about 11,200,000 bales. Hence,as the acreag€ averaged in 1897 and in 1898 over 23, 000,000 acres and is now, say 26,000,000 acres, it is easy to see that, under like conditions of development, the possibility of this year's acreage roughly speaking, would be a yield of say 12,500,000 bales.

Conclusions Summed Up. We sum up in brief the following as the conclusions with respect to acreage, conditions of plant, etc., to which our investigations have led us.

The inclination at the south this year was quite generally in the direction of enlarging cotton area. But we find no evidence of any radica. tendency in that direction except in the newer sections, hence the net percentage of increase for the whole country is only about half as great

The Fresh Beef Supply.

Maj. Ruthers devotes considerable space in his letter to the subject of beef supply. For the most part, the meat ration served the troops is the refrigerated or frozen beef, although in some of the interior points where there is neither rail or water transportation this supply is necessarily curtailed. He had sent beef 60 miles into the interior with bull carts. He notes, as a remarkable fact, that this beef was transported through a country infested with ladrones and small bands of insurgents, yet the cart drivers and supplies were not molested. He says they must have paid toll to the tribal chiefs, for had the supplies been accompanied by escorts there would have been a daily ambush.

He says there is need of more water transportation, and if he had it he would use more frozen beef, as the influence on the sick report is quite marked; the more fresh beef used the better the health of the troops. The native beef from which the animal heat has not entirely departed is not
